At a meeting of the full Board of Regents, held the date above written, the following letter was formulated and forwarded to President Brown:

Carson City, Nevada, October 24th, 1888

Le Roy D. Brown

President of the Nevada State University

Dear Sir:

It is the wish of the Regents that you so arrange the members of the faculty to accommodate the greatest number of students. To this end you will transfer any Professor or teacher to any Department of the University where their services are most needed. If there are a limited number of students in the Assaying Department you will discontinue the daily lessons of fine assaying and limit time of heating furnaces to one or two days each week. You will use economy in the use of materials, and require those under you to report breakages or waste of material by students.
