3. APPROVAL OF THE MINUTES

President Michael Gordon motions to approve, President Noah Fraser seconds the motion. Motion passes unanimously.

4. OPEN MEETING LAWS

   The issue of creating a possible outline for the student government's version of Nevada Open Meeting Law was a question brought forth to Vice Chancellor Brooke Nielson. Nevada Open Meeting Law is what the Board of Regents follows and it is passed to the students governments for easy purpose to control. Vice Chancellor Nielson emphasized that all items on the agenda have to spell out the detail of the either information or possible action and it's important to give details within minutes or agendas to inform the public. Not all things stated during the meeting have to be published in the minutes and to the student governments. The Board of Regents could write their own version of the "student government" open meetings laws but if NSA wants to create their own version for not just NSA to follow but other student government meetings, NSA has to propose a "student government version" of Nevada Open Meeting Laws so that the Board of Regents can approve them.

   If voting members during the meeting vote on action item(s) and it does not follow Nevada Open Meetings Laws, the action item(s) is then void.

   Subcommittees created under student government organization have to follow Nevada Open Law because they apply to groups of people and not individual bodies. CSUN has meetings that are simultaneously happening and Nevada Open Law is going to be adopted within these committees.

   The Board of Regents follows Nevada Open Law and if not, they follow their Board of Regent bylaws and after that they follow Robert Rule's of Order.

   If audio recordings are being take place during meeting, minutes are required to be taken. Minutes have to be drafted and sent within 30 days and it has to be drafted and ready to be reviewed by the members for approval. President Michael Gordon was interested to know what is too little and what is too much when it comes to minutes. Nevada Open Meeting Law states that the minutes have to show the date, time, place, and who is present and absent at the meeting. Minutes are required to have information of the agenda item's substance on the matter discusses. They could vary being short in words or pages in length, but it's usual that minutes place detail for public view and understanding.

   Nevada Open Meeting Law is being changed with the electronic notices, and the updates laws will be sent to Chair Alex Porter for reference. Members can state to be quoted during discussion or public comment and have their vote clearly written during action items in the minutes posted.

   President Michael Gordon brought up electronic signatures and how there could be an issue and Vice Chancellor Nielson mentioned that the System Office is also having difficulties with electronic signatures and they will be looking into it.

   Proxies, under Nevada Open Meeting Laws states that they do not have voting power and representation are not allowed during meetings but are actually known as a public audience member.

The ASUN-UNR marketing department has been busy getting their beginning semester events so the logo is not ready, but will be ready for vote at the next NSA meeting.

2. DISCUSSION WITH BOARD CHAIR KEVIN J. PAGE
   INFORMATION
   Elko has show great hospitality and welcome to the Regents.
   Scheduling the meetings, and how the location is determined is a rotation pattern. One thing determined is that UNLV and UNR will definitely be two locations scheduled for two of the four meetings throughout the year. What determines the other two locations is just a various pick of who accepts to host the meeting because every campus is nice to visit.
   The new system office in Las Vegas will now be renovated to fit the Board of Regents meetings.
President Alex Porter wants to know what is the best way to get into discussion with the Board of Regents at the meetings and the solution Chair Paige is to easily raise your hand. The tables are set up the way they are because they want student representation.

The tuition and fee meeting will be a very informative, and Chancellor Klaich advised that it's important to pay attention.

An emphasis that Chair Paige stated is that if there are road blocks for NSA presidents to get something done, let the Board of Regent know, they want to see get things done.

President Michael Gordon is concerned and brought forward to Chair Paige the topic about cyber security as a public safety issue and how it is important to help prevent people who steal information from other students. NSA security is within the cloud programs set with UNR, DRI, and UNLV but the problem is that it's not secured everywhere within its campus. Vice Chair Trachok suggested going to DRI and finding out what we need within their cyber security system and how much it's going cost to implement a better security system, then that information should be brought back to the Board.

The structure of the E-learning committee wants to follow the system's suggestions to set the outline, and based off the ASU structure they hope to see set as well. Demand for online learning is there but the interactive component is not. If there are available classes to take at UNR or UNLV online and get full credit, students would be able take advantage of these opportunities. The trend to take online classes, is based on just taking the core classes to get your basic semesters done and then concentrate onto your degree major with hands on learning. Interactive classes are so important to students and the biggest complaints are about online learning.

Our input as NSA is important for the Board of Regents to know because they know how to structure our education.

President Michael Gordon has been hearing complaints about the Integrate program at the UNLV campus and how signing in is the biggest problem because one person has to know so many passwords for so many programs.

Social media is important to promote our institutions as well as keep student informative of current issues.
